County planning commissioners, Tuesday afternoon, will consider setting up a flood plain zone along the Carmel River from Highway One to the river mouth. If approved, use permits will be required for any kind of residential construction in this locality considered a flood hazard area. Farming will remain a permitted use.

Before a use permit is granted, if the county zoning ordinance is amended as above, provisions for proper precautions showing protective dikes to protect the lives of people, and property, will have to be shown for any type of residential development.

On Tuesday, county planners will set a public hearing date on this amendment, if they decide to enact the flood control measure.

L. F. Wolters, in a letter, will ask the county planning commission Tuesday to study rezoning property in the vicinity of his grocery store in Lower Carmel Valley to planned commercial with design approval zoning. Mr. Wolter's letter suggests that future road widening and access hazards in this area warrant rezoning consideration. The area is now zoned first class commercial with design and parking controls only.

Wednesday will be Flag Day and John Logan, president of Del Monte Cleaners, is cooperating with a nationwide campaign to have all flags flown that day clean and bright.

"All American flags brought in before Monday will be cleaned free, no matter what size," he says.

Mr. Logan emphasizes there is no restriction, either, on the number of flags brought in for cleaning by any person or organization.

City councilmen, on their monthly tree tour Tuesday, gave Fred Farr permission to remove a pine and small oak to facilitate con-

Chief Of Police Rebels Against Parking Go-Round

Last night Chief of Police Clyde Klaumann, in a letter read to Carmel City Council, protested against a long established Carmel behavior pattern, somewhat amusing to those not responsible for dealing with it. But Klaumann doesn't find it funny. He wants action, in the form of an ordinance amendment, and from the council's tentative explorations with the city attorney, it appears he may get it.

"Due to the recent requests for additional time limit parking zones in the business area, I wish to call to your attention the difficulty for enforcing the present zones.

"Time limit parking was originally established in the business area at the request of the merchants, to provide a greater turnover of cars. During Mr. Everett Smith's term of office as Mayor, the time limits were abolished due to objections by many merchants when they were cited for overtime parking in front of their own establishments. After several years, the merchants again requested that time limit parking be installed. This was done, and we are again back to the same problem. Everyone wants the time limits enforced

Though Mosolf Turns To P. E. Carmel Always Will Call Him "Coach"

BY RAYLYN PENNEY

In a career spanning two decades, George Mosolf has taught some 5,000 Carmel youngsters how to swim, developed seven OCAL championship football teams, and established this record which is nothing short of startling:

As a coach, he has never even once had one of his players put out of a game for objectionable, unsportsmanlike, or just plain dirty playing.

The graying, muscular coach, a striking man both tall and stocky with crinkly, pale "crows' feet" and smile marks in a weather-burned face, last month announced he would take a breather from his long coaching stint at Carmel High School next year in order to devote full time to boys' physical education and intramural sports.

The decision sets down another milestone in a lifetime full of memorable milestones.

Born in Tacoma, Mr. Mosolf was a letterman at Tacoma High School in football, basketball, baseball and track. Later he entered the same sports at San Diego State, and graduated in 1937 from the University of California.

"When I graduated, there were three towns I would have liked to have jobs in," he recalls, "La Jolla, Laguna Beach and Carmel.

"So naturally I wound up somewhere else. At Winters. There was no high school at Carmel, but I attended a coaching clinic at Monterey in 1940, saw Carmel, fell in love with it like everyone does, and when the high school was completed in 1941 I applied for the job, which took in the entire athletic program at the time.

"When I first came we had no gym so we practiced basketball at the Mission Ranch. We had no place to play football until the kids picked up all the rocks and cleaned off the area around the school campus."

Things went into gear at the outset after George Mosolf took over, however. Carmel produced OCAL title teams in 1947, 49, 55, 57, 58 and 60. This year the school ended the football season undefeated in varsity B-division CCAL competition for 33 straight games.

"I'm prouder of the record for clean play than I am of the wins

MONTEREY HONORS COACH MOSOLF

A rival high school, Monterey, honored Carmel High School Athletic Coach, George Mosolf, Tuesday night at its annual father-sons' banquet at the county fairgrounds. He was presented with a gift from the Monterey High School coaching staff by one of his former Carmel High School football players, Jason Harbert, now on the MU HS coaching staff. He was praised for his good influence on the boys and his emphasis on sportsmanship. The three hundred present gave him a standing ovation.

Carmel citizens have not staged a banquet in Mosolf's honor because much of Carmel has not yet accepted the situation that led to his "retirement." During the 20 years of Mosolf's handling physical education and coaching at Carmel High School, the work load has increased until it has become intolerable. Mosolf had to give up one or the other, and physical education is what he is paid to teach. There is no compensation at Carmel High for coaching. He will continue in physical education.

FORESTERS WANT 110 PINES

Forest commissioners, Tuesday evening, recommended that the city council budget $1,625 to plant 65 pines on Ocean Avenue between Junipero and Carpenter Streets during 1961-62. Last month forest commissioners sent a similar request to the council for $1,140 for planting of one oak and 45 pines between Monte Verde and San Antonio on Ocean Avenue.

Trustees Buy Big Math For Little Kids

Carmel schools will join an increasing number of schools throughout the country in trying out "the new mathematics," the Carmel School Board decided last night.

The program will be set up on a pilot basis at several schools, probably Sunset, the High School and Tularcitos, beginning with the coming (1961-62) school year.

City Council To Hire Architect To Study Library Enlargement

The city council voted last night to hire an architect to find out if the library can be enlarged sufficiently to meet its next ten years' growth needs, without disturbing the library garden space.

The possible destruction of the tree-filled library open space on Ocean Avenue has aroused a wave of protests from Carmel citizens, some of which was printed in letters to the Pine Cone for several issues.

Mayor Frank Putnam and Councilman John Chitwood recognized this citizen sentiment in their committee report and their recommendation for study and first drawings.

But even if it is found that the expansion can be made without encroaching on the grounds, there is trouble ahead around the council (Continued on Page Sixteen)

The decision is the result of board action adopting three recommendations of the Mathematics Curriculum Study Group, which has spent several months exploring new approaches in math teaching in elementary and high schools developed by the nationally prominent School Mathematics Study Group. The SMSG has been subsidized by the National Science Foundation and is composed of a group of prominent mathematicians and leading educators.

The recommendations were:

- 1) That the district introduce the program next fall using SMSG materials in grades 7-10, on a pilot basis.

- 2) That a preparatory program in grades K-6 be adopted to prepare students for the new program.

- 3) That four or five teachers from the district participate in an SMSG summer workshop in Monterey, sponsored by the National Defense Education Act, and that

Woods Still On Frozen Food; Tularcitos And River Have Reprieve

The Woods School experiment with frozen-food lunches for students will be continued another year.

After a period of wavering, during which it seemed at times that the program was doomed, Carmel School District trustees voted to continue its present cafeteria program:

River and Tularcitos schools will continue to try cost-cutting procedures on the regular, traditional-style lunches, and Woods will continue on the frozen lunch set-up initiated in December last year.

A report prepared for the board by Wayne Greenfield, assistant school superintendent, showed that Woods cafeteria has had a net loss of $1,101.68 during the experimental period, compared to a gain figure of $1,378.11 for the entire prior school year under the regular cafeteria program.

Where the cafeteria was operating at a $13.63 cost per day figure under the regular system, it has cost an average of $28.10 per day for frozen-food preparation. However, Mr. Greenfield said, another year the cost could probably be cut by eliminating one-half the cafeteria manager's salary, which was not possible this year because of extra duties involved in the changeover.

Meanwhile, at River and Tularcitos, cafeterias under the old system were operated at costs of $8.23 and $24.58 per day respectively for the 1959-60 school year. The high cost at Tularcitos is caused by a low participation, 20 per cent, Mr. Greenfield said.

Though the experiment has proved more costly at the outset, Greenfield said, it may be a long-run solution.

Participation seemed to be the key point. Where some 125 students were participating in the old program, the number dropped to 60 when frozen foods came in at

RECREATION PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

The Carmel Unified School District's summer recreation schedule is printed in full on page 6 of this issue. It would be wise for the youngsters to clip it out and then when their mother wants to know "where do you think you're going in the middle of the afternoon," they can bring it out and point: "It says right here, trampolines, 1:00 to 4:00, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, for age group 6-16" and so on.

Sporting NOTES

LITTLE LEAGUE GAMES CALLED OFF

President of Little League, Van King, on advice of managers and parents called off the Little League game last night, tonight and tomorrow because the condition of the fence creates a hazard for the outfielders.

He has called for a work detail for Sunday morning, 11:00 o'clock to install a new fence. All fathers and friends of the Little League are asked to come and help.

This week's missed games will be made up at the end of the season.

Meanwhile, Little League managers and officers are accepting contributions to help offset the expenses of the league. Anyone who hasn't been called upon by a Little League representative may leave his contribution with Bill Woolsey at the post office, or mail it in.

the Sports, 8 to 3, with Terry Mosolf and Rob Farrell pitching steady four-hit ball. Ronnie Parsons, diminutive Pilot shortstop, topped the hitters with a perfect 2-for-2 and scored twice. Lou Shone and Randy Newman also teamed up to pitch a four-hitter, but 10 free passes cluttered the bases with Pilot runners. Shone, Rod Ruskell, Mel Grimes, and Benny Artellan connected safely for the Sport Shop.

Monday night, Pilot blanked San Carlos Realty's first-half champs, 2 to 0, as Steve King and Terry Mosolf hooked up in the best pitching duel of the season. King, in a losing cause, pitched a one-hitter for the realtors while Mosolf limited the realtors to a pair of well-scattered singles. Jim Sparolini, leading hitter in the Little League, stroked the two hits for San Carlos with Mike Spowart registering the single blow for the grocers. Pilot pushed across the winning runs in the fifth heat when Ron Parsons drew a walk, Spowart beat out an infield single and both runners scored on a pair of infield miscues. Well-placed bunts by Rob Farrell and Jim Baldwin were instrumental in the Pilot tallies. Mosolf struck out 13 San Carlos swingers while pitching the win for the grocers while King sent seven Pilot hitters back to the bench via the strikeout route. Top fielding plays were turned in by San Carlos' Danny Hudson and Pilot's Mike Spowart.

Boys' Town, after losing the opener to San Carlos, bounced back with a 10-4 win over Wilder & Jones as Jackie Campbell racked up his second victory of the season. The big bats of Gerald Pullen, Erik Danysh, and Gary Newton powered the clothiers to the big win over the plumbers, and the heavy hitting of Hart Silverie kept W&J in the game against the heavy onslaught of the Boys' Town aggregation. Pullen, Danysh, and Silverie all slammed out two hits in three chances to lead the hitting brigade in the crucial LL tilt.

Carmel Farm League play is slated for Saturday when Derek Rayne crosses bats with Carmel Plaza in a 10:00 o'clock fracas; Nikko's tries Little Sparrows at 12:00 o'clock; and the American Legion attempts to put the stopper on the Rockets at 2:00 o'clock.

Monday night's Little League fare matches Wilder & Jones against Sport Shop and the Tuesday schedule has Pilot Market going against Turner & McEldowney.

PONY LEAGUE OPENER SLATED FOR MONDAY P.M.

Carmel's Pony League for youngsters in the 13-14 age group will get underway next Monday at the Naval Postgraduate School field in the old Polo Grounds in Monterey. The opening game matches the Jade Tree Giants with the Navy Juniors. The Giants are managed by Howard Baxter and Bill Woolsey and have a roster of veteran Little League performers ready for action.

The six teams of the league will continue for three weeks playing Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at the Postgraduate field. The Carmel Builders Supply Dodgers vs. Carmel Valley Bronchos will follow on Wednesday, June 14, and on Friday, June 16, the Carmel Toy Shop Braves will cross bats with the Carmel Sport Shop Cardinals.

Commencing on July 5, the Pony League will move to the Carmel Little League field and will play five nights a week with several Saturday and Sunday games also on the schedule. This will permit two halves of 15 games with the winners meeting in a playoff during the first week of August.

CIRCLING THE BASES

With Nino Aiello, Jack McGaughey, and Humpty Ramirez playing topflight softball, the Carmel Merchants clipped the Monterey Merchants, 4 to 0, Tuesday night at the Pacific Grove diamond. The local pastimers rode the effective pitching of Gene Zinnani to an easy win over the Monterey nine and established themselves as a threat for the Tri-County title this season. Paul Rickerson with a two-bagger, Fritz Lembach, and Nino Aiello lead the Carmel assault on the Monterey hurlers. Carmel's Little League Farm Team circuit has settled down to a close chase with Village Inn enjoying a precarious one-game lead after five week's action in the popular Saturday go-around. Manager Lee McGuckin's squad has compiled a 4-1 record to top second place Little Sparrows with three wins and two losses. Derek Rayne, Rockets, and Carmel Plaza are locked up in a tie for third place with even-up 2-2 records while American Legion and Nikko's battle it out for the cellar with 1-3 standards. League-leading pitchers John Dudley and Jim Grey (4-0) are looking askance at little Danny Yurkovich who has pitched a pair of three-hitters for the Rockets to keep them in the thick of the pennant chase. Little Dan, son of (Continued on Page Three)

Carmel Will Always Call Mosolf "Coach"

"though," he insisted. "In fact I put two things ahead of winning. Sportsmanship and participation. Every boy should be allowed to play a game."

The Mosolf slant on training rules has been extremely successful too. "I always let the teams set up their own training rules," he explains. "That way they're more likely to stick to them. I can't recall that we've ever had to put anyone off a team for breaking training."

In addition to his vast contribution to the history of Carmel High School, Mr. Mosolf was one of the prime movers in setting up Carmel's recreation program.

Though there was not a swimming pool in the community when he came, he insisted on conducting water safety and swimming instruction for every youngster he could accommodate.

The children were loaded in trucks and hauled regularly to La Playa Ranch (now the Tennis Club Ranch) in Carmel Valley, or down to the Carmel River lagoon. Later

Mrs. Grace Howden volunteered the use of her private pool.

The first year, then-Mayor Fred Godwin passed the hat among Carmel businessmen to accumulate a modest budget of $250.

Swimming activities finally became centered at the school when the pool was built there in 1948.

As many Carmelites know, there have been and are plenty of members of the Mosolf family besides George active on the hometown sports scene.

Elder son Mike, now a quarterback for the University of Idaho, played for Carmel High School in 1956. His sister Susan now of San Francisco, was yell leader first for Carmel and then for Monterey Peninsula College. Next fall another Mosolf, Pat, who will be a senior at Carmel High, will be yell leader.

High school freshman Tim Mosolf was a baseball letterman this year, playing during the summers in the Pony League. That leaves yet to be mentioned Terry, who is 11 and a Little League player.

Thinking back over his years as a coach, Mr. Mosolf recalls that his best all-around letterman would probably be Steve Whitaker, and his outstanding back Tom Handley. Both were CHS grads of the early 50's.

"Most valuable man," Coach Mosolf says, "without whom I couldn't have operated all these years, isn't a player at all. He's volunteer assistant coach Don Craig, language CHS teacher and former St. Mary's football star. "The success of the football program has depended on him," Mosolf says unequivocally.

"I'm not really retiring from coaching," Mr. Mosolf explains, "I'm just taking a rest from a 12-hour teaching day. But I consider myself the luckiest coach in the world because I've been working with the kids of Carmel. They are the finest anywhere."

Carmel High's basketball coach, has shown exceptional control in compiling his enviable record and is tabbed for future greatness in Little League circles. Farm League statistics show some powerful hitters taking their cuts in the Saturday league. The Rockets' Pete Hahn is leading the hit parade with a solid 850 average, stroking seven safe hits in eight official trips to the plate. Alex Kapereski, Little Sparrows, is in the runner-up spot with 692, and the Village Inn's John Dudley is in third place with a 619 average. Power hitter of the circuit appears to be Village Inn's Rudy LaMar who has connected for nine doubles while compiling a 550 average. Carmel's entry in the Monterey Peninsula Babe Ruth League split a pair over the weekend, clipping Monterey Merchants, 7 to 4, on Saturday and dropping an overtime 8-7 decision to the strong Moose Lodge crew. The Carmel lads now have a 2-2 record in league play and will be trying to move up at the expense of the Baldwin Plano nine when they clash at the Carmel

Father Farmer To Head Bishop Kipp Episcopal School

The Reverend James Peter Farmer will head Bishop Kipp School, co-sponsored by All Saints' Episcopal Church and St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church in Pacific Grove, the committee planning the new elementary school announced this week. Next fall the school will open for kindergarten and first grade pupils only. Each following year one or more elementary grades will be added. Applications for entrance are being accepted at All Saints' parish office.

Father Farmer is the Vicar of St. Dunstan's Chapel in Carmel Valley and Santa Lucia Mission at Big Sur. He is the husband of the former Beva Pilling of Carmel. They have five children ranging in age from one to ten years.

Born in Berkeley, Father Farmer attended Berkeley and Oakland schools before entering the University of California. He interrupted his college studies to serve with the U.S. Army from 1942-46.

During this time he taught elementary school subjects to soldiers at Fort Riley, Kansas, graduated from officers' candidate school at the same location, then served as a second lieutenant in the World War II Southwest Pacific campaign.

After the war, Father Farmer returned to UC and graduated in 1947. He also studied at Virginia Theological Seminary for two years for his B.D. degree.

From 1949-1956 he was the first vicar of St. Francis of Assisi Mission in Novato. Following this he spent three years in Panama as rector of an Episcopal Church and a high school teacher in the academy maintained by Christ Church Diocese.

The new Episcopal school will be named after Bishop Kipp, first bishop of the Diocese of California.

Editor of the Pine Cone:

I read the Pine Cone while I was in Carmel the past eleven days, and learned that the beautiful Harrison Memorial Library will be enlarged, at the sacrifice of those two lovely old pine trees and most attractive little garden. It is such a lovely spot, right in the heart of Carmel, and is a joy to behold to many, many people. Carmel is becoming entirely too commercialized, as it is. Hope the Board of Trustees can arrive at some other solution without destroying the beauties of nature. We're all quite sick about it, and are violently in disfavor of the Board's action!!

Catherine Goodrich

May 29, 1961

The Editor of The Pine Cone:

The library is one of the most beautiful spots in Carmel. Set in a garden at Ocean and Lincoln, the reading room with its flowers and big fireplace has an atmosphere of friendly hospitality such as one seldom sees in a public library.

Americans by the thousands go to England and the Continent to enjoy the beauty of the past but here at home we destroy our older buildings as rapidly as possible. If the library is enlarged, thus destroying the garden, Carmel will have given another hostage to "progress." Progress is so often the battle cry of the destroyers of beauty in this country, often a plea for conformity so that all towns and cities may have the box-like angularity of much modern architecture.

Carmel is becoming a motel town but let us keep our library and library garden. Why not an annex, maybe near the Girl Scout Building? Let us keep some of the beauty that has made Carmel famous, not only in this country but abroad.

Book Binge Tuesday To Start Library At River School

River School parents and teachers are inviting adults and children to a Book Binge Tuesday evening, 6:30 o'clock, at the school. Parents will provide ice cream and cake; teachers coffee. Donations will be accepted to purchase books for a proposed juvenile library at River School. Any persons making contributions may designate which volume they wish to purchase for the library from a list of books prepared by the faculty as supplemental pleasure reading for subjects taught in River School grades. Mrs. Everett Heisinger, children's librarian at Harrison Memorial Library, is an advisor for the project. Later it is planned to add reference books, also a facility to house the library.

Bookplates for the volumes are being specially designed by Thomas Hamill, a River School teacher who also writes and illustrates children's books. He is the author of Brother Alonzo, published in 1957, The Golden Flute, released in 1958. In 1959, at the request of his publishers, Macmillan and Company, Mr. Hamill illustrated Bahombal Dal, a collection of Pakistani folk tales.

Donors' names will be inscribed on these bookplates which will later be placed in volumes selected by purchasers at the Book Binge so that future generations may appreciate how the school library came into existence.

The River School library is a joint venture of parents and teachers. Final plans for the Book Binge were made at a meeting at the school last week.

Having determined the need, the River School Library Committee, meeting for the first time a week ago, moved swiftly to appoint Sarah Harkins, kindergarten teacher, and Mrs. Richard Snyder to be co-chairmen for the Book Binge, with Mrs. Howard McFann and Mrs. Frederick Duhning, in charge of publicity.

Parents and teachers, led by Miss Linda Bilon, second grade, Mrs. Freda LeNeve, cafeteria manager, and Mrs. Snyder, are supporting the idea materially with donations for the icecream, cakes, and coffee, so that the only selling will be of the prospective books, themselves. Mrs. Diane Austin, fourth grade teacher, and Miss Ruth Stevenson, sixth grade, have been in charge of compiling and checking book lists for each grade. These then will be ready at the Book Binge for purchaser-patrons of the new library to peruse and select, the price being less than the usual school discount. All such purchased book donations are, of course, tax deductible.

Members of the River School Library Committee are: Mrs. Diane Austin, Mrs. Richard Bell, Mrs. Adrian Bennett, Miss Linda Bilon, Miss Maureen Dyer, Mr. Thomas Hamill, Mrs. Sarah Harkins, Mrs. Howard McFann, Mrs. Frederick McNulty, Mrs. Priscilla Nesbitt, Mrs. James Neill, Mr. Richard O'Connell, Mrs. Richard Snyder, Mrs. For Spindler, Miss Ruth Stevenson and Mrs. J. B. Wickham.

Anyone in the community who is stimulated by the idea of aiding a new library, but cannot attend the Book Binge, may send contributions to the Library Committee, River School, P.O. Box 1950, Carmel.

TWO AMBULANCE CALLS

Last night Darrell McClure of San Francisco was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital in the Red Cross ambulance operated

Woods, then went back up to about 80. If the figure can be brought higher the program should begin to be less costly, although no figures projecting this cost drop were available from the agent handling the frozen foods, according to Greenfield.

The board voted to continue the program, amending their action to delete a capital outlay of $550 for a new oven suggested by the vendor. Mrs. Betsy Bennett voted against the motion made by Dr. Grant Fletcher.

In other action the board awarded an insurance contract on school equipment to P. A. McCreery, subject to a check with Best and Company to see that the policy is obtainable under a rating asked for by the board. The $7,018 bid submitted by McCreery covers five years at $1403 per year.

Nine letters of protest were given the school board last night by Carmel Adult School enthusiasts protesting the increased tuition, from $1 to $5 on most classes, moved by the board this spring.

But the board took no action, pointing out that the adult classes cost an annual total of $46,500 now, and the rise in fees will increase the tuition total only from a present $2,300 to $10,800.

Also introduced to the board last night was Dr. Walter Klas, of San Leandro, who was chosen out of a list of 28 candidates as Carmel's new junior high school principal. Principal of San Leandro's Woodrow Wilson School since 1950, Dr. Klas obtained his doctorate from the University of California.

Tabled by the board was action on calling for bids for a $10,000 bus service station on the Tularcitos grounds so that the two buses, station wagon and car used in the valley need not be brought to town for servicing. The board asked for more information on the project.

The action arose after the board earlier decided to continue operating its own transportation system rather than contracting it to a transportation company, a possibility explored earlier.

by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department. The medical emergency call was received at 7:22 o'clock from Carmel River Inn.

Wednesday morning at 12:49 o'clock the ambulance answered an emergency call to Seventh Avenue and Guadalupe Street and took Mrs. Augusta Sahlberg to the Community Hospital Annex.

Anthropology In Idaho For Boz

Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw Williams met their son, Boz, in San Francisco on Sunday when he arrived back in California from Harvard University where he has been a freshman this year. He will be at home with his parents in Carmel Highlands this week, then leave for the mountains of Idaho. All summer, with a group of anthropology students from Harvard, Boz will dig for Indian artifacts in caves with an expedition sponsored by the National Geographic Society.

on everyone else, but not on themselves.

Numerous business establishments have purchased alarm clocks which are set to sound off prior to the expiration of their time limit. With this warning, they can all go out and juggle their cars, trading parking spaces with other employees or neighboring merchants. This, in essence, has been a game of "Musical Chairs" for the past several years, with the Police Department acting as a referee. Some of these business establishments will have sole possession of three or four parking spaces during an entire day, permitting no outside turnover, for which the time limits were initiated. There should be some clarification of the time limit parking ordinance, as certain merchants and their employees feel that by moving their cars from one parking stall to the next, they are abiding by the requirements. This situation reduces considerably the available spaces for turnover.

"I request that no additional parking limit zones be considered until some method is provided to correct the present problem of monopolizing parking spaces, thereby giving all an equal opportunity of finding parking space in our business area."

Respectfully submitted,

CLYDE P. KLAUMANN,
Chief of Police.

Music On The Peninsula

By MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The first "Pops" Concert by the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra in the Carmel Forest Theater Sunday afternoon was a distinct success in spite of a grey day which, however, was not cold. In the audience that filled the hillside auditorium there were many people who might not have gone to more formal concerts, including children, and they demonstrated much enthusiasm for what they heard. Conductor Ondrejka had supplied a program of light and easily listened to selections which were played with the warmhearted loyalty of the orchestra personnel under his authoritative baton with several added non-regular members including Helen Shutes and H. M. M. Nicholas, both of whom have been missed for some time.

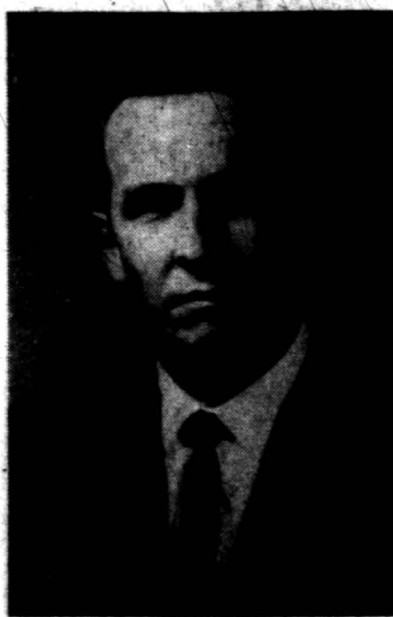

With the Musica Viva Concert also taking place at 2:30, unfortunately I could hear only the second half of the Forest Theater program. This comprised three dances from Smetana's opera The Bartered Bride and the Emperor Waltz by Strauss whose Overture to Die Fledermaus opened the program. The strong rhythms and melodic attractiveness of these held the audience's rapt attention that burst into applause to recall everyone for encore. The Radetzky March by Lanner, who first developed the waltz from an old-fashioned form and dedicated his Victoria Waltz to Queen Victoria, was also given.

Ondrejka announced each number from the platform. Eugene Harrah, President of the Symphony Association announced that the Orchestra Scholarship, for which the concert receipts were in aid, had been awarded to Dorothy Shiner, tympanist of the Orchestra who is still in high school and has not yet had training for advanced playing. She was chosen by Ondrejka and an orchestra committee. All of which makes another milestone in the orchestra's history with the hope that more Forest Theater concerts will be planned in the suitably restored outdoor auditorium that will now be open free every Sunday with entertainments presented by the Carmel Arts Commission, who arranged the opening event by the Orchestra.

The Ninth Musica Viva Concert

at the Steinbeck Theater presented an excellent San Francisco Quartet in David Schneider, violinist, Robert Grant, cellist, Asbjorn Finess, viola, and Herman Hoenckamp, piano. Owing to the conflicting times I could only hear the Beethoven Trio in C minor that met a warm response from a fair sized audience. It was not only a clear cut ensemble but one of strong feeling that made the Beethoven four movements a stirring fine performance. Tone, nuance and rhythmic precision brought forth the depth of the composition and proved the players "en rapport". Two of them, Grant and Schneider, have played formerly with the Monterey County Orchestra and are currently in the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. It was with great regret I had to leave without hearing the Ravel Trio for piano, violin and cello and the Brahms Quartet which, according to those who heard them, were exceptionally brilliant. The standard of the Musica Viva Concerts has, so far, been on a high level of musicianship that many, unfortunately, have missed. Next Sunday brings a wind ensemble of flute, clarinet, oboe, bassoon and french horn, with probable addition of violin and piano.

At Nepenthe the San Francisco Chamber Players were giving two performances, and at the MPC Gym a College Concert in honor of retiring Monterey High School Music Director, Clifford Anderson, was also in progress on Sunday. Anderson's efforts with the younger MCSO are not forgotten. One was sorry not to be there. Four good music events in one day besides the Hindu organist, Korla Pandit's playing for the Valley opening of Safeway the previous day, certainly adds up to musical (Continued on Page Six)

Tom Hefling, who grew up in Carmel and began his banking career in Monterey, will head Bank of America's new branch in Carmel Valley.

Tom will hold the title of manager of the $200,000 branch, scheduled to open June 29 following open house on June 28. His appointment was announced by President S. Clark Beise at the head office in San Francisco this week.

For the past four years, Tom has been lending officer at the bank's branch in Seaside, where he is also city treasurer.

Born in San Jose, April 13, 1929, he moved with his family at the age of two to Carmel, where his father, Frank Hefling, now a resident of Pacific Grove, was Carmel City Councilman in the mid-forties, and his grandfather, the late Thomas J. Hefling, was city tax collector from 1933 to 1953. Tom was a member of the 1946 league championship basketball team at Carmel High, played football, basketball and baseball for Monterey Peninsula College. Following graduation from Carmel High School in 1946 he attended Monterey Peninsula College for two years before joining Bank of America in 1950 as a teller at the Monterey branch.

During five and a half years there, he advanced to officer status, moving in 1956 to the Seaside branch, where he was given lending responsibilities. Promotion to assistant cashier followed in 1959.

Hefling and his wife, (the former Elizabeth Reynolds, who graduated from Pacific Grove High School in 1947 and was a classmate of Tom's at M.P.C.) make their home in Pebble Beach. He belongs to the Monterey Peninsula Country Club and was 1961 secretary-treasurer of the Seaside Optimists.

William A. Burkett will open a branch of the Security State Bank of Pacific Grove in Carmel during the coming year, he told the Pine Cone this week. He recently purchased controlling interest in the Pacific Grove Bank and assumed his duties as president Tuesday. Retiring president, A. O. Gates, 74, will continue as chairman of the board of directors.

Burkett, 47, is former State Superintendent of Banks and president of Burkett & Company, Inc., San Francisco investment consultants. He and Mrs. Burkett and their three children, Bill, age 5, Kathy, age 14, and Julie, 18, who is entering Mills College, will move from their home in San Mateo to Pebble Beach next week.

Irvin Bussing, Ph.D., former professor of banking, Columbia University and San Francisco mortgage banker, is associated with Mr. Burkett in the purchase and will serve as vice-chairman of the board of directors.

Bank officials here and in San Francisco said that it is practically unknown, in these days of bank mergers, for individuals to purchase controlling interest in a bank. No more than two other such sales of banks to private individuals could be recalled in Northern California in the past 20 years. No other such bank remains in Monterey County.

Mr. Burkett said that there would be no changes in the bank's personnel or in any of the bank's policies, and he would maintain the Security State Bank as an "independent, home-owned bank." He added that he hoped additional bank directors would be selected locally, and that consideration is being given to making small allotments of the bank's stock available to its depositors.

Mr. Burkett began his banking career following his graduation from law school in 1938. It was interrupted by World War II while he served as the Officer-in-Charge of the Secret and Confidential Section, 12th Naval District Intelligence Office, and later with the Intelligence Unit of the United States Treasury Department.

Since serving as Superintendent of Banks, Burkett has, since 1959, headed his own firm, Burkett & Company, Inc., investment and management consultants with offices in San Francisco and Los Angeles. He will open a branch office of his firm on the second floor of the Security State Bank Building on July 1.

Burkett is a great-grandson of John J. Williams, 1849 Monterey pioneer who participated in the drafting of the State's first Constitution. Burkett is a member of the Society of California Pioneers; California Historical Society; the Commonwealth Club; Rotary; the Reserve Officers Association; Disabled American Veterans; the American Legion; and was formerly the national president of the Association of Supervisors of State Banks. He headed the State's Department of Investment, and was a member of California's District Securities Commission during 1955-59. Governor Knight appointed Burkett to his Cabinet from 1953-59, where Burkett was considered one of Governor Knight's key administrators. Burkett is a member of the Peninsula Golf and Country Club, and has been active in San Francisco and San Mateo civil activities, including being Treasurer and a Director of the San Mateo County Heart Association.

Theatre-In-Ground Rashomon Run Ends This Week End

The run of Rashomon, the unusual play being presented at the Forest Theater In the Ground, has been extended through this week-end.

Written by Fay and Michael Kanin, Rashomon is adapted from a Japanese tale which in turn formed the basis for a notable film several years ago. The theme of "poetic truth versus literal truth" emerges as the four main characters—a samurai, a robber, a noble lady, and a woodcutter—each give their own versions of a crime. It is a stylized, absorbing and highly provocative play, one of the offbeat successes in New York two seasons ago, and is having one of its first West Coast presentations in the Forest Theater workshop.

The local production was temporarily interrupted during its second Saturday night performance, when the star, Hannah (Mrs. Robert Dudley), suffered a dislocated shoulder during one of the climactic scenes. Mrs. Dudley gamely played through the act, but the remainder of the performance and the Sunday show were cancelled by producer-director Elroy Naczek.

Rashomon returned to the stage with Zelma Weinfield replacing Mrs. Dudley in the role of the noblewoman. Mrs. Weinfield has participated in numerous local productions, latest of which was Tey's Daughters at the Golden Bough Circle. An extra performance was offered to accommodate those who had held tickets for the cancelled performances of the preceding week.

In addition to Mrs. Weinfield, the cast of Rashomon includes Rigo Martine, Joe Pisani, Tom Fraser, Lucille Klester, Alice Lovett, and Gary Winters. A leading role is also taken by production director Elroy Naczek.

Performances this week begin at 8:30 o'clock. The Theater In the Ground is situated below the main stage of the Forest Theater, at Mountain View and Santa Rita Streets.

Dr. T. Morgan

Dr. Thomas Logan Morgan, D.O., died May 31 at his home at Monte Verde and Ninth Streets. He was 66.

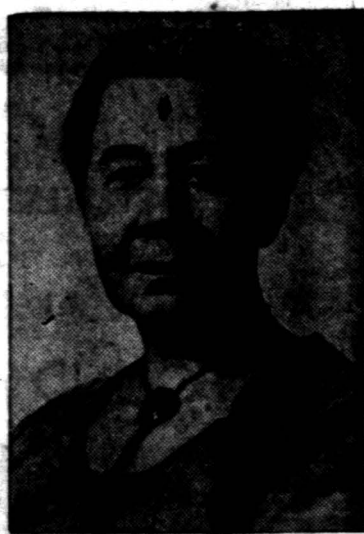

A native of Fullerton, Nebraska, Dr. Morgan was born August 11, 1895, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska and from the American College of Osteopathy in Kirksville, Missouri. Following his internship in Oakland, Dr. Morgan practiced for three years at Lihue, Kauai, in the Hawaiian Islands; his marriage to the former Sibyl Joyce took place October 10, 1921, in Honolulu.

Dr. Morgan returned to the mainland in 1924 and practiced in San Francisco until 1931, when he moved temporarily to Paris, France. He returned after two years to San Francisco, and practiced there until his retirement to Carmel three years ago.

He was a past president of the California Osteopathic Association (1939-40), a member of the Masonic Lodge of Piedmont, and of the Carmel Kiwanis Club. He was also affiliated for 25 years with the Kiwanis Club of San Francisco. He was a veteran of World War I.

In addition to his wife, Dr. Morgan leaves a son, Dr. Thomas L. Morgan Jr., D.O., of San Pedro; a daughter, Mrs. Ray Raphael of Oakland; a sister, Miss Ada Morgan of Omaha, Nebraska; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Friday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating.

At the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, held in Boston on June 5, Mrs. Mary Lee Gough Nay, was named president. She succeeds Arthur W. Eckman, General Counsel of the Mother Church.

A native of Texas, Mrs. Nay received her education at Ward Seminary, Nashville, Tennessee, the University of Texas, and the University of Chicago. She withdrew from a musical career in 1918 to devote her time to the practice of Christian Science healing in Chicago. She became an authorized teacher of Christian Science in 1946. She will serve as President for one year.

In her keynote address, Mrs. Nay said that release from the frustrations and inequalities of materiality can come to all through spiritual awakening.

Emphasizing that there is an answer to hatred, disease, poverty, and disaster, Mr. Eckman, the retiring President, said, "It is God's law of love, which must be invoked in humility and with abiding faith and clear understanding."

Jack E. Dial

Jack Elmer Dial, 60, died May 31 at his home on Esquiline Road in Carmel Valley.

A resident of the Valley for the past two years, Mr. Dial formerly lived in Long Beach. He was born January 8, 1901, in Mangum, Oklahoma. Since moving here Mr. Dial had been employed as an automobile salesman in Monterey and Salinas.

He leaves his wife, Rene McDonald Dial of Carmel; two sisters, Mrs. Hansel Dowling and Mrs. Wilma Hastings and a brother, Roy Dial, all of Long Beach.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock at the Little Chapel by the Sea, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating.

Mrs. Robin Jarvis

Mrs. Robin Rucker Jarvis, 66, died May 31 at a local hospital after a lingering illness.

A resident of this area for the past 20 years, Mrs. Jarvis had made her home in Pebble Beach at Ronda and Oleada Roads.

Mrs. Jarvis was born in San Francisco on September 6, 1894; her family was among the pioneer settlers of California. She was graduated from Mills College, and lived for many years in Oakland, where her husband, the late Dr. C. F. Jarvis, had his practice. Mrs. Jarvis moved to Pebble Beach following the death of her husband in 1941.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The mental nature of fatigue will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "God the Preserver of Man."

Isaiah's comforting assurance of divine strength will be read from the Bible (Isa. 40): "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint."

A correlative selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states in part (p. 217): "The scientific and permanent remedy for fatigue is to learn the power of Mind over the body or any illusion of physical weariness, and so destroy this illusion, for matter cannot be weary and heavy-laden."

The Golden Text is from the first chapter of Joshua: "Be strong and of good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whither-soever thou goest."

Joyce graduated from Carmel High School in 1952. She studied at Mills College for two years prior to transferring to San Jose State College where she received her B. A. degree in 1957. She did graduate work at the University of Mexico City before returning to California to teach at Del Ray Woods School. After this Joyce spent two years teaching on Indian Reservations in New Mexico and Arizona.

She has a graduate assistantship, awarded by the Lily Foundation, while obtaining her master's degree at the University of New Mexico, specializing in Indian education and doing guidance and counseling work with Indian students at the university. After she receives her M. A. in education she plans to return to work on reservations.

Her fiancé served in the U. S.

Army with the Medical Corps in Korea during 1951. He is a graduate of the University of Colorado in sociology and for four years has been working on the Navajo Reservation near Gallup, New Mexico, specializing in social service case work with the Navajos.

A mystery painting by a world-famed artist will be offered for sale. Those attending will be given an opportunity to guess the name of the artist prior to the sale, according to Mrs. Virginia Frank, head of the committee planning Sunday's events. She is being assisted by Richard Tourangeau, John Gardiner, Lewis Fenton, Walter Spears and Bernadette Tullios. The amateur art competition will be judged by Abel Warshawsky, Donald Teague and Linford Donovan. John Gardiner is providing silver bowls for trophies. The annual Senior Ball took place Saturday night at Rancho del Monte in Carmel Valley. Mrs. Mark Raggett turned over the president's gavel to Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels at the same meeting and Mrs. Thomas Craig was awarded the auxiliary's first thousand hour pin.

The money was presented to Mr. Hurd was applied to the Auxiliary's pledge of $25,000 to the new 100-bed hospital now under construction. Only $2,000 of the pledge still remains to be paid. Mrs. Rody Holt made the presentation to Mr. Hurd. Thomas Tonkin, hospital administrator, was present, also Mrs. James H. Parks, representative for the auxiliary's associate members.

Paul McKelvey and Mrs. William Byrnes. Mrs. Rody Holt supervised sales and distribution of the directory.

Active members of the auxiliary under Mrs. Raggett's leadership this past year gave 7,150 hours of work time to the hospital: desk work, 4,339 hours; outside time, 2,811 hours.

Mary Angier Married June 3

The quaint and picturesque Swedenborgian Church in Pacific Heights, San Francisco, was the setting Saturday morning for the 11:00 o'clock marriage of Mary Angier of Carmel and Walter Armstrong Abernathy of San Francisco, formerly of Louisville, Kentucky.

Mary was given in marriage by her father, Herbert Angier Sr. of Carmel. She wore a beige silk linen sheath dress and long coat ensemble with matching bag and shoes. Her veiled pillbox hat, of the same material as her ensemble, was designed by her close friend, Gwen Ring, who recently returned to the United States from her home in Dublin, Ireland. White sweetheart roses, surrounded by white carnations, were used in her French nosegay bouquet.

She was attended by Mrs. Mervin Sutton of Carmel, the former Nancie Nielsen, who wore a white printed with blue forget-me-nots linen princess style dress and white accessories.

Major Robert V. Grady of Fort Ord was the bridegroom's best man.

Mrs. Angier attended her daughter's marriage clad in a black silk sheath dress, black picture hat, matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

A small reception was held following the ceremony in the Telegraph Hill apartment where the bridal couple will live. During the reception the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abernathy, who were unable to be present, telephoned their best wishes to the young couple from Louisville, Kentucky, and reiterated a promise to visit them soon. They were represented at the wedding by Charles G. Abernathy of San Francisco, the bridegroom's uncle, and Mrs. Abernathy who wore a white orchid corsage in honor of the occasion.

After they had cut their wedding cake, the bridal couple left for a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe. They will be honored later at a reception in Carmel planned by Mr. and Mrs. Angier.

His wife has three sons by her previous marriage to the late James R. Odermatt. Their names are Michael, Ernest and Steven.

Committee Requests Financial Support For Educational TV

The Monterey Peninsula Television Committee announces instructional television for schools and cultural programs for youth and adults can be available to the entire Peninsula from KQED, Channel 9, San Francisco, if local financial support is provided.

Station KQED is non-commercial with no advertisers. Viewers are asked to share the cost of the quality programs through contributions. It will take about $14,500 to set up translator stations to rebroadcast Channel 9 locally, the committee reports.

If enough small contributions are received before July 1, KQED reception can be provided in homes and schools by September 1. Checks should be made out to Monterey County Educational TV Fund and sent care of the Monterey Peninsula Television Committee, Box 1031, Monterey.

Mrs. Barker will be given in marriage by her son, Ronald. Her attendant will be Mrs. Melba Roth and best man for Mr. Lefevre will be Smith Farrell Dobson.

A reception will follow the wedding. After the bride and bridegroom have cut their wedding cake they will leave for a honeymoon in the southern part of the state, but will be back in time to see Ronald Barker graduate from Carmel High School on June 16. They will live in Mission Fields.

Mrs. Barker came to live here seven years ago. An artist, she is a member of the Carmel Art Association and the Scandinavian Art Society of the West. Her future husband is also a painter, and has appeared frequently as an actor in productions at the Wharf Theatre.

Coming from Los Angeles for the wedding are Mrs. Barker's mother, Mrs. Rose Johnson; her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Price; and her uncle, Charles Graham. Her sister, Mrs. Fred Lorch, will come from San Francisco.

Also expected from Los Angeles are Mrs. Barker's cousins, Rhonda Fleming and Mrs. Beverly Engle and their mother, Mrs. F. E. Lewis, also a cousin.

CARMEL RESIDENTS

Dr. and Mrs. Milton Benjamin and their twin sons, Peter and Greg, have come to live in Carmel. They have moved into a house on Lazarro Road and the boys plan to enroll as seniors at Carmel High School in September.

For over a year the Benjamins have been living in Cuernavaca, Mexico. Before that they were residents of Elizabeth, New Jersey, where Dr. Benjamin practiced medicine.

Last week they were the guests of Mrs. Beatrice Wiegman who was their neighbor in Cuernavaca last summer.

Board Buys Big Math For Little School Kids

these teachers be paid $100 per week for the two weeks of the workshop to encourage participation.

Trustees at first balked at the $100 per week, feeling it would establish a precedent when only mileage and actual expenses have been approved for prior workshops. However, the recommendations passed as a package, and the board indicated it would look into possible inequities in such payment for workshops later. Trustee Dr. Grant Fletcher and President Ted Fehring voted "no" on the issue because of the deviation from policy.

Presenting the written report to the board was Lewis Di Stefano of the math committee, which consisted of representatives from each school in the district and from each grade level.

Although the action was carried out by the board without mulling into the structure of the new plan (which had been explained and explored on previous occasions), it was evident the new system has engendered plenty of excitement among math teachers, who were represented in the audience last night.

Math today simply isn't what it used to be, the report pointed out. The subject matter is growing, it is used for needs not dreamed of a few years ago, emphases are changing, and new math ideas, language and symbolism are needed to prepare students to take on the now more complex concepts of college math.

For instance, under the SMSG system, the elementary school child will approach math with increased emphasis on basic math principles and fundamentals. In junior high the SMSG course emphasizes number systems treated from an algebraic viewpoint, and more than one-third of the time is devoted to geometry.

Study of number systems is stressed at high school level, along with algebra and Euclidean geometry, but with much greater demand on the student's ability to accept and apply theory. False boundaries demarking the study of math, physics and chemistry are also removed.

As one article on the "new math" put it: "The idea is to teach today's physics, but in a way that will enable youngsters to continue to grasp new material as it develops for the next 50 years."

Monterey County Supervisors, last week, placed an emergency 45 miles an hour speed limit past Carmel Rancho shopping center from the intersection of Highway One with the Carmel Valley Road to 200 feet east of Ranch Rio Vista Drive, a distance of approximately one-half mile.

The ordinance was adopted because of expected increase in both vehicular and pedestrian traffic in the area.

State Says Carmel Pups Have To Stay In Own Back Yard

Last night the city council learned there are limits beyond which the traditional Carmel permissiveness toward dogs may not go.

In a letter, George L. Humphrey, State Public Health Veterinarian, reminded the council that Monterey County is a rabies area, that the law requires that pups under four months of age be confined to the premises of the owner and that Carmel has not been enforcing this provision.

He wants a report on what measures the council proposes to take to comply.

"I suppose we'll have to comply. They can go into court and make us," observed Commissioner of Health, Eben Whittlesey, who is a lawyer.

As soon as the council passes the ordinance, puppies up to four months old will have to stay at home because they are under age for vaccination against rabies.

Though this is a move in the right direction in the interest of public health, Carmel pedestrians will find little consolation in it. Puppies don't bite very hard. Vaccinated and licensed dogs still are free to roam the streets, and bite. Last year, within the city limits of Carmel, 20 persons, several of them children, were bitten by dogs.

table on the matter of financing the improvements, and the policy of free cards to all the children of the Carmel Unified School District, most of them living outside the city limits. A major reason for enlarging the library is to accommodate the children of non-resident, non-city tax paying parents. Also, for a fee of $7.00 per year a non-resident can have a library card.

Councilman Francis Whitaker said "I'll not approve spending of city money as long as non-residents are given a free ride or a bargain ride on the library. I paid $45 library tax this year."

Norberg proposed a motion for a joint meeting of library board, city council and school district representatives to confer on the school district's assuming some of the financial responsibility.

This roused Councilman Chitwood to say: "If the school district carries the load, we'll have interference from the school board and the P-T. A. about what their children should read."

Mrs. Dorothy Chapman, in the audience, suggested that "some disinterested person give a report on how our library compares with other libraries of cities of 4500 population." She pointed out that Carmel bears part of the load for supplying books to the unincorporated areas in paying taxes to support the county bookmobile.

She said the proposal to enlarge the library had caused much controversy among the citizens. One of the questions she had heard frequently repeated was, "Why give the non-resident kids cards when their parents use them?"

Though Norberg's proposal for a joint meeting on finance failed of a second, Chitwood assured the council that the matter of financing would not even be considered until the architect would determine if it were feasible to enlarge the library without damaging the garden grounds.

He did not appear to be concerned with the financial aspect. "Carmel people are proud of their library," he said. "If it can be enlarged without hurting the garden, it will be enlarged, if we have to pass the hat."

The council also:

Heard Robert Stanton propose the revival of Gunnar Norberg's parking permit fee proposal, as a means of raising money instead of the proposed bed tax on over-night accommodations.

Received a report without comment on a revised and simplified salary schedule for city employees from City Clerk Lawrence Rose which they will study. Rose has cut out a number of categories and attempted to adjust inequities, especially in the street department, the only department in which he has proposed salary increase, so as to bring this department into reasonable relationship with the others. The category of "laborer" has been removed from the schedule. "We have no laborers in the street department," Rose told the Pine Cone. "A man will one day wield a shovel, the next be engaged in some skilled work. We are not a big city where one man is on one job the year around."

A letter from the Police Department personnel asking for a raise in line with cost of living increase and over-average cost of living in Carmel was put over for study during budget session.

Granted the police chief's request for installation of 10 "keep to right" signs to protect newly planted trees in the center of Junipero street.

Over Councilman Chitwood's protest voted down a proposal of Councilman Whitaker to enter into a co-operative drainage project with the owner of the lots on Fourth and Santa Fe. Councilman Eben Whittlesey questioned the policy of the city's paying half the costs of solving private citizens' drain-

MPVS Garden Tour August 16

Gardens in Carmel, Pebble Beach and the Monterey Peninsula Country Club will be opened to the public for the tenth annual Garden Tour and Flower Arrangement Show of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services. It was announced at the MPVS meeting Friday in the USO.

Mrs. Archer Allen, finance committee chairman, presented the following requests which were unanimously approved by the membership: Town House, $45 for lip reading equipment and blinds to darken the television room; Institute of Foreign Studies, $300 for equipment.

Mrs. Rudolph ver Mehr, MPVS representative on the Community Council, reported on this group's activity in bringing educational television to the Peninsula public. MPVS members assisted with mailing information on this subject.

New members introduced by Miss Marion Ely, membership and placement chairman, were: Mrs. Florence Barnard, Mrs. Thomas Christian, Mrs. Edward Downard, Mrs. T. D. Harris and Mrs. Gregory Hughes.

Thrift Shop proceeds for May amounted to $1,030.01, MPVS members learned.

age problems. Chitwood said it had been a policy of the council for eleven years and had cleared up a drainage "mess." When Whittlesey, Putnam and Norberg killed the motion with their no votes, Chitwood exploded: "We're going back to antediluvian policies."

"I like your choice of words," chuckled Whittlesey. "Antediluvian means before the floods."
